Of Mohave County Miner and Our Mineral Wealth published weekly at Kingman for October 1918.
State of Arizona, County of Mohave.

Before me a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared W. G. Damon, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Editor of the Mohave County Miner and Our Mineral Wealth and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:
Publisher Mohave County Publishing Company, Kingman, Arizona.
Editor, W. G. Damon.
2. That the owners are (Give names and addresses of individual owners, or if a corporation, give its name and the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of stock.)

That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such

TEN SHIPS AND FIGHTING TANKS TO BE NAMED FOR CITIES SUCCESSFUL IN LOAN

As a mark of distinguished service in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign the privilege of bestowing their names upon steamships of the United States Shipping Board and upon fighting tanks has been accorded respectively to cities and counties of the Twelfth Federal Reserve district.

Ten ships and ten fighting tanks will under this plan bear the names of the cities and counties which have made the greatest records for over-subscription when the loan campaign closes on October 19.

The cities, for the ship competition, have been divided into five classes according to their population in the 1910 census, as follows:

Class A (more than 250,000)—Los Angeles, San Francisco, one ship.

Class B (150,000 to 250,000)—Portland, Oakland, Seattle on ship.

Class C (50,000 to 150,000)—Honolulu, Spokane, Salt Lake City, Tacoma, one ship.

Class D (25,000 to 50,000)—Berkeley, San Jose, San Diego, Pasadena, Ogden, two ships.

Class E (10,000 to 25,000)—Phoenix, Alameda, Riverside, Redlands, Boise, Aberdeen, Bakersfield, Fresno, Eureka, Santa Cruz, Pomona, Long Beach, Salem, Bellingham, Stockton, Vallejo, San Bernardino, Santa Barbara, Everett, Yakima, Walla Walla, five ships.

That each state and territory of the district may be represented on the front in France, the tanks have been assigned for competition as follows:

Alaska, on tank; Northern California, one tank; Southern California, one tank; Hawaii, one tank; Idaho, one tank; Nevada, one tank; Oregon, one tank; Utah, one tank; Washington, one tank; to the second highest county in the state or territory returning the highest number of over-subscriptions counties, one tank.

The privilege of naming the ships is accorded to the General Publicity committee of the Liberty Loan organization by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, who was entrusted with the duty of naming all the shipping board vessels. The War Department made the same disposition as to naming the tanks.

The selection of sponsors for the christening ceremonies of both the tanks and ships will be made by the successful communities by methods approved by their Liberty Loan committees.

Contests for the honor of officiating as sponsor may be opened to all persons except members of the families of Liberty Loan executives. Under no circumstances will ships or tanks be named after individuals or organizations.

The awards will not be made until after the closing of the campaign and only subscriptions in the hands of the Federal Reserve Bank will be considered.

SAVE FRUIT PITS
AND NUTSHELLS

Investigation by chemists have shown that pits of apricots, peaches, plums, olives, dates, cherries, plums, and the shells of Brazil and hickory nuts, walnuts and butternuts, make the best carbon for the millions of gas masks needed by the American army.

Not only will this carbon save many lives at the front, but consumption of the fruits from which they come means utilization of perishable foods, and collection of nuts for their shells will make possible the use of their meats as food.

All pits and shells of the kind specified — none other — should be saved, dried and used into the nearest Red Cross organization or such receiving stations as may be designated.

MALTING OF GRAIN FOR BEER STOPPED

The United States Food Administration announces that from this date (Sept. 21) forward no malting of grain will be permitted for the purpose of growing beer or near beer. Malting will be permitted for the purpose of manufacturing yeast, vinegar, cereal breakfast foods, malt extract, and other products, but no grain shall be malted for these legitimate purposes until sales have actually been made. Malsters are now permitted to purchase grain to cover malting of this character.

trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders, who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and that affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

FARMERS KILL HUN
STARVATION PLAN
WITH BIG CROPSPinched by Own Hunger, Germans
Watch American Wheat Flow in Plenty to the Allies

The soil, the two-fisted fighting men that spring from the soil, and the unconquerable determination of the Americans who till it, are beating the Germans.

Thrown back from his first rush across the Marne and held at Verdun by the valiant French, the Huns cast all the restraints of humanity and civilization to the winds and ushered in unrestricted submarine warfare with the boast that England would be starved in six months.

How nearly they approached success will form one of the most gloomy chapters in the world war history; how and why they failed, one of the most inspiring sections of the epic chronicle.

AMERICA SENDS FIGHTERS FOOD

True, British and American sea-dogs hunted the submarine; American ship-builders launched fleets whose sheer numbers made it impossible for the Hun sub-sea terrors to sink all of them; British land conscription turned hundreds of thousands of acres of parks and hunting preserves into crop-producing areas; Hoover and American food economy saved millions of bushels of wheat and shiploads of meat for fighting men and civilians in France and England.

But in the last analysis it was the farm and the farmer of America that kept allied hosts on every Western front in plenty and added despair of victory to the pinch of hunger behind the Hun lines.

His bumper crops jolted hopes at Potsdam and Vienna as severely as his fighting sons jolted Teuton generals at Cantigny and along the Marne, since expectations of American crop failure were based with Germanic complacency on carefully plotted campaigns of propaganda and sabotage in the United States.

HUN AGENTS
BURN CROPS

The general public is too little aware of the bitter battles the crop grower has had to fight to bring his wheat to harvest.

Burned barns, standing crops, harvesters and threshing machines were only a part of the widespread ruin planned by these fellows of Boy-Ed, Von Papen and von Bernstorff, and in too many instances their plots were successful. That more were not was due only to untiring vigilance which can never be relaxed while the war lasts.

New goals, not easy of attainment, are placed before the farmer through the plan for raising an army of five million Americans to crush Germany next year.

He will be further handicapped by the loss of hands to the army, and he must raise greater crops. Plans of the Department of Agriculture call for the increase of wheat acreage in the West by as much as 80 per cent.

WEEKLY KANSAS CITY
STOCK MARKET REPORT

Kansas City Stock Yards, September 30th, 1918—Cattle receipts today were 37,000 head, market steady, no choice or prime steers here, top sale up to noon, $16.50. Hogs today 11,000, market strong to 10 higher, top $19.85. Sheep and lamb supply 21,000, market around 25 lower, arrivals mostly on the feeder order, best sales $15.50 for half fat Westerns.

BEEF CATTLE

Best steers are worth $19.00, which was the top here last week, a small number of steers selling at $18 and upward, other fed steers $15 to $17, cags fed steers up to $17.00 grass steers $9 to $15, except some light southern which sell down to $7.00. Cows sell at $7.25 to $11, canners $5.25 to $5.75. The whole list of steers and cows is 50 to 75 cents below a week ago. All the markets had reduced supplies today, as compared with last Monday, and it is probable that prices will make some recovery tomorrow and thereafter during the week. The receipts here last week were 108759 cattle which was the greatest number ever received here in one week and 6,000 more cattle than ever arrived at Chicago in a single week. This number did not include 14,641 calves that arrived. Disposition of cattle and calves to packers outside order buyers, and country buyers footed up 123,000 head last week, showing the complete absorption of the immense offerings.

STOCKERS AND FEEDERS

Shipments out were exceptionally heavy and prices showed about the 25 to 50 cents lower. Market is steady today, feeders at $11 to $14.50, same decline as in the fat grades except on good yearlings which sold only stockers $7.50 to $12.

HOGS

Packers were successful in making a raid on prices last week, but the market took a turn upward Thursday, sales strong each day since then. Best heavy hogs sold up to $19.85 today, medium weights the same, choice lights worth $19.60, bulk of sales $18.60, to $19.60. Stock pig trade is active at $17 to $19, with the demand ahead of the supply continually, and the total trade taxing the facilities for handling almost to the limit. Prospects favor a stronger market for fat hogs, although receipts are running about 100 per cent greater than they were a year ago. Packers are exporting an average of six and half million pounds of pork products every day, which means that it takes 44,000 hogs a day including Sundays to satisfy that portion of the trade, not counting domestic consumption.

SHEEP AND LAMBS

Arrivals were almost 100 carloads today, and practically no choice fat

WOOL CONSUMED IN MONTH OF AUGUST

Manufacturers used a million and a half more pounds of wool in August than in July, 1918. August figures will be 63,900,000 pounds, grease equivalent, compared to 62,300,000 in July. Monthly consumption has averaged about 67,000,000 pounds, grease equivalent, since January 1, 1918.

Stocks of wool consumed in August in pounds, by classes, as given by the Bureau of Markets, were: Grease, 337,769,216; scoured, 11,732,697; and pulled, 2,014,544. The reports show Massachusetts still leading in wool used, followed in order by Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Rhode Island, New York, New Hampshire, Ohio, Connecticut, and Maine.

According to the latest available information wool textile machinery formation on wool textile machinery cards and 2,263 combs in the United States. The three firms whose reports are not included in the consumption figures have a combined capacity of 15 woolen cards and 9 worsted combs. This, it is pointed out, shows that the consumption report includes 99.7 per cent of the woolen machinery in the United States.

DECLINE IN STOCK
NOTED ON FARMS

On about 5,000 representative farms scattered throughout the United States, reporting to the Bureau of Crop estimates, the decline in the number of cattle was 0.8 per cent from last July 1 to August 1. 2.9 per cent in hogs, and 3.3 per cent in sheep.

lams were included. Trade was slow with a lower tendency following heavy declines last week, with half fat Western lambs selling at $15.50 to killers, choice Westerns quotable up to $16.50, natives $15.50, feeding lambs $14.00 to $15, fat ewes around $9.75, feeding ewes $6.50 to $8.50, breeders $11.50 to $16.50. All orders for feeding or breeding stock can be promptly filled now.
